Start the New Year Off On the Right Paw: Sign Up for Dog Training

SANTA CLARA, Calif., -- Jan. 8, 2009 -- Is your dog driving you crazy? Does he/she need to learn some canine manners? Are you already thinking your New Year's Resolution will be to train your dog? Then get a jump-start on your New Year's Resolution and sign up for dog training classes at Humane Society Silicon Valley's (HSSV's) new Animal Community Center in Milpitas!

HSSV is working with A DOG'S LIFE to offer all levels of obedience classes at our new Animal Community Center.

While training classes will not get underway at the new center until April, space is limited and classes fill up quickly, so interested parties should sign up now.

Angeline Siegel, director of HSSV's medical center, training and nutrition programs, says participants learn science based training methods from highly skilled and experienced certified trainers. All classes are dog and people-friendly and designed to help families learn how best to train their family pooch.

"We believe an educated owner and a well-trained canine is one of the pleasures of life," says Cecilia Saleme," director of training and programs at A DOG'S LIFE. Saleme says there are courses for all canine ages and all canine (and human!) skill levels. Best of all, individual attention abounds with a maximum enrollment number of 12 dogs with multiple trainers and assistants. For more information, visit <http://www.dogslife.biz/classes.html> or call 408.747-1111.

About Humane Society Silicon Valley

Humane Society Silicon Valley (HSSV) is an independent, non-profit agency offering quality adoptions, medical care and education programs to enhance the human-animal bond. Established in 1929, HSSV has served Silicon Valley for 80 years and adopted more than 500,000 animals into permanent, loving homes. HSSV is an "open door" shelter and accepts animals 24-hours a day, seven days a week, regardless of any temperament or health related problems. HSSV's medical center offers affordable spaying/neutering, vaccinations and microchips to the public. More information about HSSV can be found at our website at www.hssv.org.
